Following the installation of the new Heidelberg CD 102 Carbon Neutral Press at building no. 48 and solar panel at building no. 52, we will be experiencing renovations works stage by stage in all different premises for the coming months. We hope to provide a more conducive work environment for all employees.

Besides, we are taking product designer interns. Their involvement with our designer do provide more input to our eco products. We are glad to see that our waste materials and new materials like the compressed paper angle bar which was used to make pallet can be turned into furniture.

We look forward to more innovative ideas on the different eco products design with the new collaboration with design school. The ideas generated are important to us not just for product development but also to inspire our in-house designer to challenge their way of thoughts further.
